Grain Situation in West Much Improved

—o—

Well over seventy-five per cent of the Western wheat crop has been threshed and reports lately received are more optimistic on the outlook for the yield and quality. While there will be a substantial shrinkage in weight and a reduction of grades, the damage will probably not be as great as was thought earlier in the season. A recent survey of the situation shows that at least one hundred and forty million bushels of wheat had been threshed before the unfavorable harvesting weather set in. Little work was done in September, but since then operations have got under way in practically every section of the Prairies and threshing should be completed by the end of October.

So far the greatest demand for the new crop comes from millers. Export demand has been rather desultory on account of the improved showing in the other wheat exporting countries. In the United States, the surplus wheat for export this year is expected to be greater than for some years. Present conditions of the wheat crop in Australia indicate that the Commonwealth will harvest 140,000,000 bushels. The crop for last year was 116,000,000 bushels. Argentina will probably not have as large an exportable surplus as she had last year, owing to the fact that the area sown to wheat is less than for 1924-25, while growing conditions to date have not been altogether favorable. Early in the season it was stated that Russia would enter the export trade this year, but so far no data are available as to the quantity she will have for export. India will probably have a wheat yield that will measure up to last year's, as recent reports indicate that the new crops are coming along nicely under favorable weather conditions, and there are no further complaints of excessive moisture.

While the domestic market for dairy products continues to hold up fairly well, there is room for further improvement in the export situation. It is quite likely that this end of the dairy business will pick up very shortly.

Much the same situation exists in the market for livestock and livestock products. Exports of live cattle have fallen off in the past few months and while there is a good demand from English farmers for feeder stock, the market there does not compensate them for the time and expense involved in bringing the cattle up to the market standard. The demand from English consumers for Canadian packing products such as bacon, pork, etc., should also be stimulated.

BRILLIANT RULING OF AN OTTAWA CUSTOM OFFICIAL

—o—

Bridgeburg Review: Some of the customs rulings which comes from Ottawa are ridiculous.

A local motorist had his car painted in Buffalo. When he brought it back he assumed that he would have to pay the usual rate of duty on the cost of the paint job. But no! Somebody at Ottawa has ruled that only machines can be taken out of the country for repairs, and that an automobile is not a machine. Therefore, it is argued, the motorist who bought a coat of paint in Buffalo must pay duty on the value of the car, rather than on the cost of the paint. And the car was made in Canada.

It is by such rulings as these that the customs department at Ottawa pretends it is tightening the border because of the exposure in the recent inquiry.

SCHOOL FAIRS IN ALBERTA

—o—

More school fairs will be held in Alberta next year, it was announced at a conference of government officials, fair directors, and agricultural school principals, which was held in the parliament buildings, Thursday. The plan is to be developed and enlarged considerably, and it is expected that 140 events will be on the list for 1927, an increase of 15 over the present number. Great success has marked the school fairs this year, it was reported, notwithstanding the fact that bad weather kept down the attendance somewhat.

Sprouted Grain Develops many Different Grades

SCOUT NOTES

FIRST STRATHMORE TROOP BOY SCOUTS

—o—

A number of new members have joined both the Scout Troop and Wolf Cub Pack during the last two weeks, and the new material will be of great value as well as increasing the numbers which are now higher than at any time since the troop was formed.

All are taking a great interest in the work for the Signaller's Badge, and there will be some good telegraphists in town before spring.

Scoutmaster Fred J. Dunn will be glad to hear from any persons who have discarded toys or good clothing for which they have no further use, either for children or adults. This will be collected by the boys, and the toys will be sent to the Scout's Repair Shop, and the clothing will be sent direct to the Herald Sunshine Fund, who will have many calls for same during the winter. The object of this collection is to encourage the boys to help those in need.

∴ More British Boys Coming ∴

So successful has been the plan of training British boys in the agricultural schools of the province, instituted by Hon. Geo. Hoadley, that more of them are coming this year. It is expected that between 65 and 75 of the boys will be distributed among the two agricultural schools at Olds and Claresholm, Alberta, this year. Twelve of these boys are now on the way, and the balance will follow shortly. The responsibility for the placing of these boys on farms following their five months' training will be taken over by the Dominion Government next spring, this having been done hitherto by the Provincial Government. The boys come to Canada under the assisted passage scheme of the British Government, and the province undertakes to train them at the schools of agriculture. In addition to their training the coming term, the Provincial Government is arranging to have the boys spend each a week on some farms in the vicinity of the schools during their course of training.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 8 THANKSGIVING DAY

—o—

Monday, November 8, has been officially announced at Ottawa as Thanksgiving Day this year.

Thanksgiving Day is observed on the Monday in the week in which Armistice Day, November 11, occurs.

IRRIGATION DEVELOPMENT

—o—

That there is in South and Central Alberta plenty of room for more settlers on irrigation projects is disclosed in the following report for the year 1925 on irrigation development in Alberta issued by the Department of the Interior:

	Irrigable Acres	Irrigated Acres
C.P.R. Lethbridge	130,000	81,110
C.P.R. Western	218,980	49,752
C.P.R. Eastern	400,000	93,375
Canada L. & I. Co. ..	206,640	10,174
Taber I.D.	17,000	13,863
Lethbridge Nor. I.D.	105,000	45,016
United I.D.	36,000	7,230
New West I.D.	4,500	3,552
Raymond I.D.	68,000
Magrath I.D.	51,000

In addition to these larger projects there are 495 small individual schemes within the province for which water has been appreciated. The combined irrigable area in these smaller schemes is about 60,000 acres. In the case of the Raymond and Magrath district it might be pointed out that they are now under construction and water will be available next season. Lethbridge Northern production this year will exceed 60,000 acres.

HEAVY YIELDS OF GRAIN

Some heavy yields of grain are being reported throughout the province. At Claresholm, it is reported by the Lethbridge Herald that G. A. Walker, M.L.A., has threshed 55 bushels an acre from 46 acres of wheat. A yield of 42½ bushels is reported from 155 acres on the Thompson Co, farm at Spring Coulee, this being second generation, Marquis, Turkey Red winter wheat on the farm of Armour and Brimble, in the Ready-made irrigated district, near Lethbridge, yielded 72 bushels to the acre. One irrigated farm near Taber reported 51 bushels to the acre. At Champion, a yield of 45½ bushels on one farm was reported with 100 bushels of oats to the acre.

WESTERN CANADA MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES MAKING PROGRESS

—o—

WINNIPEG, Man.—The manufacturing industries continue to make progress in western Canada, according to a recent return of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Between 1923 and 1924, $17,584,929 was added to the capital investment in Manitoba industries, $377,712 in Saskatchewan, $5,906,674 in Alberta and $34,431,907 in British Columbia. The net value of production in Manitoba in 1924 was $43,215,250; in Saskatchewan, $614,134,784; in Alberta, $256,142,386 and in British Columbia, $85,361,982.

Provincial Government Eleventh Crop Report

—o—

Issued by Department of Agriculture, Government of Alberta
Edmonton, October 23, 1926

The occurrence of adverse weather conditions, chiefly heavy rains and snow throughout the province, during September and early October, which brought harvesting operations practically to a standstill, made it difficult for the Department to issue definite reports. Now that conditions are more favorable, and the province has experienced a spell of good weather in which threshing has been rapidly carried forward, the Department feels it is possible to issue a statement with some definiteness as to yields and general crop results.

The outstanding feature of this report will be the definite statement that the unfortunate weather recently experienced has not had the disastrous effect which might have been expected on the wheat crop. In fact, it may be said that once more Alberta grain has demonstrated its capacity for weathering adverse conditions while in the stook.

The prospect is that Alberta will yet realize its earlier expectations of harvesting the second largest crop of wheat. While there has been some reduction in yields which has been lowered from one to three grades. The heavy unseasonable precipitation followed by frost naturally has had this effect. The damage from sprouting has not been as large as reported earlier.

With respect to yields, it is now possible to make a somewhat definite statement, although obviously any statement made now is subject to revision when all returns have been received. However, sufficient returns are now in, which, together with the general information available to the Department, establishes that the province has harvested a greater crop of wheat than last year. The Department expects the average yield throughout the province will be in the neighborhood of 19 bushels an acre. It is even possible that the average will be shown to be slightly higher than this when all returns are in. On a total acreage of 6,275,000 acres, the province would therefore have a total yield of wheat of 119,225,000 bushels. The largest crop produced in the province was in 1913 when 144,000,000 bushels were produced.

In the few districts in the province where the crop has been light, the yield will average as low as seven to ten bushels. On the other hand, at least two crop districts will average around thirty, while the Grande Prairie country from early returns shows evidence of having harvested the heaviest crop in its history, with grades averaging number two. Some very heavy individual yields of wheat are being reported, and returns show that thirty and forty bushel yields are not too uncommon in many parts of the province.

The province's crop of threshed oats will be very light, this crop having suffered severely from the adverse conditions. A shortage of seed oats is therefore anticipated. The bulk of oats will be cut for greenfeed, consequently there should be an abundance of feed throughout the province.

In the south the corn crop has not been up to expectations. The sugar beet crop promises well, and will yield a heavier return to the farmer than the previous season.

There has been considerable new breaking this year, and more fall plowing than usual. A fairly large increase in winter wheat acreage is indicated. With the abundance of fall moisture and the opportunity afforded by the present fine weather for fall plowing, the prospects are encouraging for next season.

In summarizing conditions, it is reasonable to state that, in view of the anticipated higher prices for grain, and in view of increase in dairy products and other branches of agriculture, the general returns from agriculture will be higher than in previous years.

"Tony" Grogan was very much interested in the Lucille Oil Co., which was being organized at Calgary during the summer months. He says you cannot do much drilling without a supply of simoleons, but he expects that with money from the harvest available, that the Lucille will shortly spud in and that the dolomite should soon be reached if nothing unusual happens to the machinery. Steady drilling gets results.

Most of the operators are experienced drillers, although the younger ones appear to work faster, but possibly not so scientifically as the "older birds", and Tony rather expresses a preference towards those with experience.

Bill Tierney claims that hob-nailed boots are treacherous on slippery rocks. He once knew a man at Arnprior, who wore them while fishing. He slipped, fell, got badly slashed up and was knocked out. A beautiful young damsel found him, took compassion on him, dressed his wounds, lugged him home, fell in love with him, and (sad to say) married him. Moral: Avoid calamity. Use bare feet, sneakers, moccasins, packs, or leather-cleated boots, but not hobnails, they're risky.

Charles: "Mummie, who are you so pretty?"

Mother (improving the occasion)—"Because when I was a little girl I was always good."

Charles (thoughtfully)—"What a naughty little boy daddy must have been!"

William Tierney, Esq., who is an admirer of Hon. Mackenzie King and has never been known to waver in his allegiance, was pretty badly upset, although he wouldn't admit, when he looked over the timber in the new cabinet, and found that eight Scotsmen had been selected, several Frenchmen, one or two Englishmen, and as William thought the Irish had been overlooked. However, upon re-examination, he found that one good Irishman was on the Job, and he figures in the game of politics, he will be able to hold his own against the other fifteen.

When Pete Telfer was over in Scotland, he went out shooting with a couple of Scotch schoolmates, and one of them was a very large, heavy man and the other was slight and meagre. The big man accidentally shot himself rather seriously; but all his companion in arms was heard to say by way of sympathy was:

"Rin, man, rin, an' keep rinn'n' as long as ye can, so we mayna hae to carry ye sae far."

Billy: "I bet Bobbie would kiss you if I wasn't here."

Alice: "Bill, how dare you! Leave the room at once!"

Principal Crowther: "Can you prove that the square of the hypothenuse is equal to the sum of the squares of the two sides of this triangle?"

Student: "I don't have to prove it. I admit it."

WEAR A POPPY ON ARMISTICE DAY

When the war was on you were protected by the boys who left home and friends, many of whom never returned and rest today in Flander's Fields, while many more came back maimed and incapacitated to carry on their regular occupation.

Many of these disabled boys are employed throughout the year making poppies, and all that are sold in Alberta, through the Canadian Leogion have been manufactured in Alberta.

In addition to helping in furnishing some employment for the handicapped survivors you are also doing something in remembrance of the boys who never will return, when you wear a poppy on Armistice Day.

It costs you a mere pittance, but it does a heap of good to the boys who have returned, and it is a touch of remembrance that appeals to all those who lost sons, brothers, fathers and sweethearts in the great slaughter cauldron.

Don't forget. Wear your poppy on Armistice Day.

LET THE FIRE LADDIES FIGHT THE FIRES

The Fire Brigade, which has been recently formed under Chief A. V. McFarland and an enthusiastic crew of helpers, together with the co-operation of the C.P.R. Brigade, have been giving much time and thought in developing the organisation to the highest point of efficiently possible with the outfit at their disposal.

The equipment on hand has been thoroughly overhauled, and stands ready, in fine condition, at the Town Hall, to give prompt service, should the necessity arise.

The Town Council are encouraging the good work by placing an order for a new electrical motor, which will be installed within a few days, thus ensuring an ample water supply, with the least possible delay.

Now that the brigade is re-organized under a trained corps of fire fighters, the members are particularly desirous that the public leave the matter of fighting fires to them, until such time, that if they require any outside assistance, the chief will call for volunteers.

This request is made not in any unfriendly spirit, but on the contrary, solely in the interest of discipline and that efficiency may be maintained; in other words, "too many cooks spoil the broth."

The brigade is willing to do the fire fighting, but they wish to carry on the work most effectively, which cannot be done if the public step in and muddle their plan of attacking a conflagration.

Leave the work to the Fire Laddies until they call for help, and hold the brigade responsible for results, which cannot be done if everyone turns in, working individually, on a "go as you please" method.

"Leave the fire laddies alone."

CANADA NEEDS TAX REDUCTION AND RADICAL ECONOMY

Canada needs national unity, severe cuts in taxes, and radical economy, upon which to build a foundation that will lead to real prosperity.

In the recent Dominion election, it was not the constitutional question which carried Hon. Mackenzie King to victory, but the budget, fathered by the quiet man of few words, Hon. Mr. Robb, together with the faith the public placed in his promise, that if given the opportunity he would supplement with further tax reductions, and no doubt that the western representatives at least will see that this pledge is completed.

Ways and means should be adopted by the Provincial Government and the municipal councils to lighten the tax burdens in every possible manner.

With lower taxation, wider markets, and a live immigration policy to bring the right kind of people to the western prairies, the outlook for Canadians is one that is most encouraging.

People have only to read the monthly remarks that are being broadcasted by the banking institutions, which, if they err at all, err on the cautious side, to be convinced that business conditions never were more encouraging, if we only keep sane in the matter of conducting our national and local affairs.

BUY ONE CANADIAN BOOK THIS WEEK

This week is being observed through out Canada as Canadian Book Week.

Some critics maintain that Canada has not yet developed a national literature that is distinctly Canadian; but nevertheless, Canadian authors are well on the way, and Alberta is especially well represented on the list of gifted writers.

Naming a few of these: Mrs. R. W. McClung, better known as Nellie McClung; Mrs. Laura Goodman Salverson, Mrs. Flo. Jewel Williams, Mr. Longstreth, who, though scarcely an Albertan, is now gathering material in Alberta for a history of the Royal North West Mounted Police; R. J. Stead, formerly on the staff of the Calgary Albertan, now a resident of Ottawa, who has just published his best and brightest novel, "Grain", a concise history of Canadian Literature, by Professor Broadus, of Edmonton.

The other provinces have added their quota to the growing store of Canadian Literature.

Canadian Book Week offers an opportunity for all to further familiarize themselves with the growing quantity of better literature, both fiction and non-fiction that is being produced by Canadian writers.

Buy at least one Canadian book during the week.

HAVE YOU MADE USE OF TRAVELLING LIBRARY?

What shall be read during the winter?. This question comes before people with the approach of the cold season and the long dark evenings.

In the cities ample provision is made through the public libraries, supplying ample material, but in the smaller towns and rural districts it is not always so easy.

The Department of Extension Library of the University at Edmonton, are helping to solve the difficulty through the establishment of the Travelling Library, which is sent from one community to another. They are maintained by the provincial university, free of all charge, excepting the cost of transportation. The libraries are made up of thirty to forty volumes about two thirds of which are fiction, and the remainder devoted to general literature, including essays, poetry, history, travel, biography, art and science.

All that is required to secure the library is for ten responsible citizens to make application upon the form furnished by the Department, and select a responsible person to care for the library.

HEMP INDUSTRY VERY ENCOURAGING IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, Man.—Prospects for the hemp industry in Manitoba are excellent, according to H. Wilson of the Manitoba Cordage Company, who believes that "there is no reason why the various articles produced from the raw material could not be manufactured in this province as well, as in the case in other countries with similar prevailing conditions." He added that any left-over raw material would find a ready market in the United States.

ROCKYFORD

Taking full advantage of the fine weather, all outfits have been threshing full time during the past week. Many have finished their runs and paid off the crews, and at the time of writing, there is comparatively little more to do. The roads are in splendid shape for hauling, and the 1926 crop is rapidly finding its way into the elevators. Although there have been few outstanding large yields in the district, the average has been fair, running from 15 to 35 bushels; the majority of fields doing around 20 bushels.

Don't forget the masquerade dance on the 29th, at the Rockyford Hall. The famous Jolly Boy's orchestra has been engaged for the evening, and a splendid time is assured. It is hoped that now that threshing is over, and the roads are in such splendid shape, a record crowd will come and enjoy a real treat.

On Monday there was a turkey supper in the Rockyford Hall. Both the supper and the splendid entertainment which followed, were an unqualified success. The program was excellent throughout, but special mention must be made of the violin solo by Mrs. Myers, with Mrs. Hovey at the piano. Both were in splendid form, and received many encores. A notable hit was made by the male quartette from the Union Church choir, consisting of Messrs Walrod, S. Roppel, and L. Roppel. A most enjoyable evening was brought to a close by community singing, in which all joined with the goodwill that had characterised the proceeding from beginning to end.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

—o—

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

THAT the housewife who has an eye for economy reads the ads.

THAT she appreciates the high quality of the merchandise that is advertised.

THAT at the store that advertises she finds a selection of merchandise at prices that make shopping worth while.

THAT the thrifty housewife takes advantage of the opportunities appearing in the advertisements. Everyone should do the same.

THAT people soon learn to have confidence in the store that is a constant advertiser.

THAT constant advertising is a guarantee of quality, and quality builds up a reputation for honesty.

THAT stores with a reputation for honesty win the confidence of the people.

THAT these stores always appreciate honest criticism, for honest criticism always helps the merchant.

THAT the up-to-date merchant realizes that the growth of his business depends upon the right kind of advertising, merchandise and courtesy —when they furnish this they make regular customers.

COMPLETING GRAVELLED HIGHWAYS

—o—

A completed gravelled highway from Edmonton to the international boundary by the end of 1927 is a possibility, according to the program of the provincial highway department. The completion of the gravelled highway department. The completion of the gravelled highway from Edmonton to Calgary will be carried out next summer, and the completion of the road south from Calgary to the boundary, some of which has already been gravelled will be made next year, too, if possible.

BIG BOXING BOUT STRATHMORE NOVEMBER SIXTH

Saturday night, November 6th, will be a real sporting one in Strathmore, Jack Reddick, Canadian Light-heavy weight champion, will meet Al Anderson, of Swift Current, who held the championship of Alaska.

Reddick had all the big ones sidestepping in 1924, and this opening match will show that the big Canadian boy will make them all step in the near future. Al Anderson is one of the swiftest in the business, and will make Reddick watch his step every minute.

In the semi-finals, arrangements have not yet been completed, but an effort is being made to have White, of Drumheller, meet Rice, of Vulcan.

The meeting of these two welter weights would make a most interesting scrap.

From a local standpoint, the keenest interest is being evinced in the probability that Breen and Jackobsen will again meet.

Last April Breen made a monkey of Jacobsen in the first two rounds, and had the latter "goofy", but lost his opportunity to make a clean-up through being out of condition, and before the end of the bout Jackobsen had Breen listening to the "cuckoo birds".

The "Buxton Kids", of Calgary, under the guidance and instruction of Barney Doran, have become a real attraction, and will likely give an exhibition.

The local youngsters, Roughouse Rellinger, Battling Grey, Dempsey Moran, Tunney Keeling, and others will be added attractions.

At the last bout these youngsters were real features, in fact better than some of the headliners.

Saturday, November 6 is the day and every road leads to Strathmore. Make your reservations early, or you will find yourself on the outside waiting and watching for the latest report from the ringside.

GOLF

On Saturday, October 16th, the finals for the Championship Cup and Consolation Medal were played, when Mrs. McFarland defeated Miss Watson for the Cup by 6 and 4.

In the Medal Competition Miss Boyton won from Mrs. Lydiatt by one hole.

The final for the Club Handicap Cup was played on Sunday last, the finalists being Jos. Van Tighem (hcp 3) and Fred J. Dunn, (scr.).

Owing to the high west wind play was very difficult and the golf was not of the usual high standard shown by these players.

Dunn was one up at the end of the first nine, and playing steady golf easily defeated Van Tighem at the 15th hole, being 6 up and 4 to play.

Last year's winner was Walter Gray who was eliminated early this year by his brother William.

FRED J. DUNN'S DREAM

—o—

Playing one day on the Strathmore course,
I was weary and ill at ease;
I couldn't play from the fairways—
Couldn't drive from the tees.

I do not know what I was playing;
Probably nine or ten,
And I'm sure the word I muttered
Was certainly not "Amen."

But I struck one golf ball fairly,
Or so at the time it seemed,
For the click it made was the music
Of which I had often dreamed.

It quieted pain and sorrow,
It scattered gloom as it fled;
For once, I felt, in a lifetime,
That I had not lifted my head.

It scurried away in the distance,
But—this is the part that is tough,
It swerved like a frightened rabbit,
To plunge in the blasted rough.

I have sought, but I seek it vainly;
I think it a crying shame,
To lose that ball I walloped,
The day I was on my game.

It may be that death's bright angel,
Will bring me a better score;
It may be that mashie and niblick
Will trouble me no more.

It may be the Lord in his wisdom,
Will teach me to beat them all,
But I know that only in Heaven,
Will I find my long-lost ball.

The School Fair dance, which had to be postponed on account of the weather, will be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, November 18th. Chapin's Midnight Serenaders furnishing the music.

M. Lynch's home, just south of Langdon, was totally destroyed by fire on October 16th. Mr. Lynch built the fire, then went out to do the chores. Two boys, aged nine and twelve woke up, and had to break their way out through a window. Neighbors came to help, but nothing could be done. Mrs. Lynch and three girls were spending the week-end in Calgary. The loss was completely covered by insurance. The family is occupying the V. E. Dye residence near Langdon, but Mr. Lynch will build soon.

CANADA MAKING GOOD PROGRESS IN SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURE

TORONTO, Ont.—Scientific agriculture is making headway, there being now thirteen agricultural colleges in Canada, as compared with two in pre-war days. Selective breeding has done much to improve the strains of wheat, oats and barley—to mention one leading activity of the college.

ALBERTA'S TOURIST TRAFFIC

Alberta's three national parks, Jasper, Banff and Waterton Lakes, received nearly $24,000,000 from the tourist traffic in 1925, stated J. M. Wardle, chief engineer, Canadian National parks, in an address to the Canadian Good Roads Association Convention at Edmonton recently.

In 1925, 333,400 people had visited Canada's various national parks, and by August of this year, that total had already been reached for the current year.

Jasper, Banff and Waterton Lakes got 148,000 of these tourists of whom $7,000 came by rail, and 61,000 by auto. Eighty thousand of this total were Canadians.
